Product Description and Planting Instructions

General Planting Instructions: It is best to plant your bulbs as soon as the weather permits after they arrive. If you must wait, open the bags for air circulation and store them in a cool, dry location. Early blooming bulbs such as daffodils and crocus should be planted in early to mid-fall. Later bloomers, like lilies and tulips, can be planted through November or until the ground freezes. Make sure soil is well drained. Dig holes to the right depth and loosen soil at the bottom of the hole and add bulb fertilizer or bone meal. Remember to water well. If you have a dry fall, you may have to water several times before the ground freezes. Applying mulch after the ground freezes can provide protection for these bulbs during the winter. Apply 2-4" of shredded bark, compost, straw or leaves. Covering with evergreen boughs is also helpful.

For further planting information, you may go to the Veseys web site at www.veseys.com
